

The Spirit Journal
March 2014
US

F. PAUL PACULT'S
SPIRIT JOURNAL

"Luscious and highly mixable"

F. PAUL PACULT'S

SPIRIT JOURNAL

THE QUARTERLY INDEPENDENT GUIDE TO DISTILLED SPIRITS, BEERS AND WINES

March 2014, Vol. 24, Issue 1, No. 101; Estab. 1991 | Web Site: www.spiritjournal.com Email: mail@spiritjournal.com

Highest Recommendation

Oyster shell/pale straw color; sediment free. I pick up herbal scents of dried cooking spices, mostly, bay leaf, parsley, sage, as well as coconut shell, pipe tobacco, orange blossom; later sniffs confirm everything discovered in the initial whiffs, adding juniper, green tea. Entry is succulent, delicious, lush, keenly spicy/peppery, off-dry, tobacco-like; midpalate mirrors all the glories of the entry and piles on additional tastes of lemon zest, ginger, saffron, almond. Luscious and highly mixable.

- F. Paul Pacult
March 2014